TROUBLES INCREASE

FOR REPUBLICANS.

Akins at the Next Nominating Convention.

Missouri Republican papers of the Kerens brand are agitating the subject of a new State chairman. The country press has begun a campaign of characteristic wit, humor and wisdom by telling of the "Akin" pain which the party is enduring. Tentative candidates are mentioned, many of whom, it is said, are being encouraged by Kerens in the hope that one of them will develop sufficient strength to oust his en-

It is noticeable that the majority of the papers which mention the subject are not members of the press association which Chairman Akins organized in St. Joseph. By forming this association the chairman naged to secure a control of the party sentiment, which is being worked to the limit. If the association has any influence at the next convention, Mr. Akins will remain at his present post. Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City is one of the Kerens men who are being boomed. He was very active in opposing Akins in Washington, and has the sincere hatred of the present regime. C. D. Morris of Trenton, Postmaster and editor, has also been mentioned, as has Howard Gray of Jasper County. Of the two latter, Gray is considered the stronger politician. He has had experience in Jefferson City, but is unfamiliar with city politics. Henry Lamm of Sedalia, a member of the State Committee, has also been mentioned. Friends of E. C. Brokmeyer have also brought him E. C. Brokmeyer have also brought him forward, but it is understood that he will deny any such ambitions. Indications point to the re-election of Mr. Akins.

Hammering Marshal Bohle.

Republican politicians of this city were interested yesterday in discussing the charges which have been preferred against United States Marshal Louis C. Bohle. Those who were informed of the exact nature of the allegations agreed that they are of a most serious nature and will call for a "show-down" from the President on his "efficiency and morality" rule.

Said one politician yesterday: "If the President decides to follow that rule in the present case, we shall know that he was sincere in upholding the charges which were preferred against strong Kerens men. It was very easy for him to refuse to appoint a man who he knew was opposed to Akins and for Kerens. If he turns down Bohle, he will have given a rebuff to the Globe-Democrat which will probably find an echo in the editorial columns of that organ; that is, if the Globe still stands by Bohle. Just for the fun of the thing, I would like to see Roosevelt take a fall out of the Globe." Hammering Marshal Bohle. of erecting a large plate-glass manufactur-ing concern. Most of the property was pur-chased from Gerhard H. Timmerman, president of the St. Louis Iron and Machine Works. The consideration is said to be in the neighborhood of $160,000.

It is said that over one million dollars will be spent in the erection of the plant, and that 1,000 workmen will be employed in the establishment after it is completed.

Valley Park is about twenty miles west of St. Louis, and the promoters of the deal say it is well situated for their purpose. Silica mines and sand hills are in abundance in the vicinity. The Pacific, Mo., sand hills, about twelve mile further west, have been purchased for $30,000. The Missouri Pacific and Frisco railroads both run by the place. The Meramec River also runs through there. It is said that work on the plant will be begun within the next month. The above sentiment was expressed by more than one Republican. It is said that the Star does not look with disfavor on the presentation of the charges. Its own political ambitions have more than once run crosswise of the Globe.

Hard Job to Harmonise. Some of the members of the Republican City Central Committee are considering a method to abate the rising storm over the selection of Charles Nagel as legal adviser. Some of the committeemen have begun to hear from their henchmen, who want to know whether it is proposed to run Nagel and anti-Nagel tickets in the wards at the spring primaries.

and anti-Nagel tickets in the wards at the spring primaries.

There is a chance that another effort to compromise will be made by the selection of some such man as C. P. Walbridge to act with Mr. Nagel. The former Mayor has friends among all factions of the party, especially among the Kerens element, though he has trained with the St. Louis Republican Club a great deal.

Still another solution of the difficulty is Still enother solution of the difficulty is presented by some of the committeemen from the lower wards.

They are said to have been instrumental They are said to have been instrumental in arousing the negro Republicans, who formed a club the other evening for the single purpose of getting a representation on the City Central Committee. The negroes appointed a committee to wait upon the party organization. If the disaffected City Committeemen wish to humiliate Mr. Nagel they probably will permit one or two representatives of the negro Republicans to share in the party councils. "There is a necessity for doing this," said a committeeman yesterday. "We have lost so many negro voters in the last four years that we must do something to satisfy them. We have not treated them right. They can cast more votes than any of the so-called swell clubs, and we need votes these days. Then, if we hold an early spring primary, we can start all over again."

of Jefferson City, Mo., which took place yesterday in the office of Judge William Jefferson Pollard, was a surprise to the parents and most of the young couple's friends, who were not informed of the event. The intended departure of Mr. Watterson for Oklahoma as a member of a surveying party caused the young couple to decide on an immediate marriage. Mr. Watterson procured the license and, without announcing his intentions to any one, went to the office of Judge Pollard. So well was the secret guarded that the bride's sister, Miss Flossie Ransom, who also is in St. Louis, was not informed of their wedding until last night.

Mr. Watterson, who says he is a relative of Colonel Henry Watterson of Louisville, Ky., last night explained that neither his own nor his wife's parents had been told of the marriage, but said there would be no opposition when the fact was made known to them.

MISSOURI PEACHES INJURED. Acting State Horticulturist Discusses Effect of the Cold Spells.

REPUBLIO SPECIAL Columbia, Mo., Jan. 28.-Walter L. Howard, acting State Horticulturist in the abence in Europe of Doctor J. C. Whitten, today confirmed the statement of Secretary George B. Ellis of the State Board of Agriculture, that most all of the peaches of Central Missouri have been killed. Mr. Howard said this afternoon that in the Central Missouri have been killed. Mr. Howard said this afternoon that in the orchard on the State farm not one bud remained unkilled by the extreme cold, and that there will be practically no peaches in the State the coming year.

The talk among Missouri fruit growers is that nine out of ten buds have been killed even in those regions least affected, the southern and northwestern counties. A thinning out of six buds in ten would yield an average output, in fact most of the best successful growers thin out the best this amount in normal years, just as the seed begins to harden.

Peaches are supposed to stand weather as cold as 21 degrees below zero, though it is very rarely they can survive more than 17 or 18 degrees below unless the air drainage is beyond the average. So that in all those localities where the thermometer has dipped downward to that extent, and nearly every point in the State experienced this, the peach crop is as good as gone.

Apples are unhurt by the cold. One or two other influences, one of which was the extreme drought, have placed some trees in bad shape.

N. F. Murry, a prominent orchardist, is also authority for the statement that the berry crop will also be greatly injured. This is attributable directly to the drought. Strawberry plants which were not properly irrigated last year will decrease 59 per cent this season.

So strenuously did the child resist the attack of the woman that the hand in which she held the coin was bruised hand in which she held the coin was bruised as the money was torn from her grasp.

The little one left her home, No. 1431 North Twenty-fourth street, to make a purchase from a Franklin avenue grocery for her mother. As she turned the corner of Twenty-fourth street the negress, noticing the shining coin, followed. When the child had reached the center of the block the woman walked quickly alongside and snatched at the tot's hand.

The child became frightened and started to run, but the negress grabbed her by the arm and tore the coin from her hand. After giving the child a siap for screaming, she released her and ran quickly across the street and disappeared in an aliey.

Charges Against the United States | They Failed to Find Edible Roots After Provisions Were Exhausted-Lucid Account of Trip Lacking.

> Manila, January 28 .- General Chaffee curtailed his trip and returned here this morning. He says he found the conditions satisfactory everywhere except at Samar, where continuous rain for the last two months has retarded the campaign, especially against such an elusive enemy.

The condition of Captain David P. Porter's marines, who took part in the expedition into the interior of Samar, is much worse than previously described. They suffered fearful hardships, and were without food for several days. The natives who accompanied the marines claimed they were unable to distinguish the edible roots, which the marines did not believe. The anger of the marines against the natives is intense. None of the latter returned with the marines.

The marines suffered so acutely from starvation that they are the raw flesh of two dogs.

The expedition into the interior of Samar, led by Captain David D. Porter of the marine corps, numbered thirty-six men. It had been absent two weeks. The marines had been provided with rations for only five days. On January 21 Captain Porter and twenty-six members of his party reached the coast of the Island of Samar. The other ten men were missing, and little hope of their safety was entertained.
